INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp. as of December 31, 2007, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors and cash flows for the year then ended, which have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp. as of December 31, 2007, and the results of its income and retained earnings and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements, taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplementary schedule is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTE 1--Business And Summary Of Significant Accounting Policies

Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp. (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the state of New York on February 7, 1995. The Company is engaged primarily in brokerage, investment advisory services, investment banking, and hence is registered under the rules of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. The Company commenced operations on May 1, 1996.

The Company clears transactions on a fully disclosed basis and does not carry customer accounts and is exempt from Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph k (2)(ii).

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Company:

Accounting Method

Assets, liabilities, income and expenses are recorded on the accrual basis of accounting.

Revenue Recognition

Securities transactions and related revenues are recorded in the financial statements on a settlement-date basis; however, all transactions are reviewed and adjusted on a trade-date basis for significant amounts.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents include short-term highly liquid investments, such as short-term deposits.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and depreciation is computed using the straightline method over the estimated life of the assets, generally three to five years.

NOTE 2-- Due From Clearing Broker

The Company's clearing operations are provided by one broker. At December 31, 2007 the amount receivable from clearing broker reflected in the Statement of Financial Condition is due from this clearing broker in connection with such services. The clearing broker has the right to charge the Company for unsecured losses that result from a customer's failure to complete those security transactions.

NOTE 3--Property And Equipment

Property and equipment at December 31, 2007 are comprised of the following:

Furniture and fixtures	$ 166,540
Machinery and equipment	201,320
Leasehold improvement	1,000
·	368,860
Less: accumulated depreciation
and amortization	300,265
	$ 68,595

NOTE 4--Commitments And Contingent Liabilities

At December 31, 2007, the Company is obligated under a lease for office and storage space, which expires on May 31, 2008. Additionally, prior to December 31, 2007, the Company entered into a lease amendment for a new office and storage space, in the same building, which the Company expects to occupy in March or April of 2008 pending completion of the construction build out. This new lease will expire 10 years after the date of occupancy. Further, upon occupancy of the new space, the old lease will effectively terminate. The leases provide for increases in operating expenses over base year amounts.

Approximate future minimum annual rental payments under the leases are estimated as follows:

Year Ending
December 31
2008	$ 212,878
2009	228,793
2010	234,516
2011	249,639
2012 and thereafter	1,767,957
	$ 2,693,783

Rent expense for the year ended December 31, 2007 approximated $196,280. The difference between the actual rent expense incurred by the Company and the minimum annual rental payments as reported in the financial statements is due to real estate and porter wage escalation charges.

NOTE 4--Commitments And Contingent Liabilities (Continued)

The Company is subject to lawsuits and claims that arise in the ordinary course of business. It is the opinion of management that the disposition or ultimate resolution of such lawsuits and claims will not have a material adverse effect on the financial position of the Company. Further, the Company has an "error and omission" policy which provides substantial coverage.

NOTE 5--Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of $354,558, which was $254,558 in excess of the amount required. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .98 to 1 at December 31, 2007.

NOTE 6--Liabilities Subordinated To Claims Of General Creditors

The subordinated borrowings are covered by agreements approved by the National Association of Security Dealers, Inc. and are thus available in computing net capital under the Security and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule

Borrowings under subordinated agreements expire on December 31, 2012 and bear interest at rates varying from 0% to 1%, as follows:

Expiration Date	Date Interest Rate	Principal Amount
12/31/2012 12/31/2012	1% 0%	$ 410,575 45,000
		$ 455,575
NOTE 7Income Taxes
The provision for income taxes consists of t	he following:
Federal New York State New York City		$ 0 3,525 26,141
Total		$ 29,666

10

The New York City tax provision is based upon an alternative tax calculation involving the add back of salaries to stockholders owning more than 5% of the Company's stock.

As of December 31, 2007, the Company had Federal, State and City net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $78,000, $73,000 and $33,000 respectively, that will begin to expire in 2026.

As of December 31, 2007, the Company had a New York Liberty Zone Business Employee Credit of $107,385 available to offset future Federal tax liabilities. This credit does not expire.

NOTE 8--Off Balance Sheet Risk

Pursuant to a clearance agreement, the Company introduces all of its securities transactions to its clearing broker on a fully disclosed basis. All of the customers' money balance and long and short security positions are carried on the books of the clearing broker. In accordance with the clearance agreement, the Company has agreed to indemnify the clearing broker for losses, if any, which the clearing broker may sustain from carrying securities transactions introduced by the Company and must maintain, at all times, net capital of not less than $100,000. In accordance with industry practice and regulatory requirements, the Company and the clearing broker monitor collateral on the customers' accounts.

In normal course of business, the Company's customer activities involve the execution, settlement and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose the Company to off-balance—sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and the Company has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

NOTE 9—Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash in financial institutions, which at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experience any losses in such accounts and believes it is not subject to any significant credit risk on cash.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL STRUCTURE REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

To the Board of Directors
Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Perrin, Holden & Davenport Capital Corp. for the year ended December 31, 2007 we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Systems, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weakness as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the NASD and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
